

Probe Death Of Youth In Auto

LEMONT -- The body of a Lemont youth reported missing was found Aug. 13 in the trunk of a junk car in the unincorporated area at 128th and Archer Ave.

Donald DeCoster, 19, of 1105 Kim Pl., was reported missing Aug. 1 by his sister, Mrs. Donald Jackins, with whom he lived.

The body was discovered by Theodore J. Ludas, 18, a friend of DeCoster. Ludas reported to Lemont and Cook County Sheriff's police that he found the body when he opened the trunk of the car, which was among other junked cars that he and his father kept in the lot.

He was in search of spare parts which had been placed in the trunk earlier. Ludas told police that he thought that the body was that of DeCoster, a construction worker.

A full scale investigation is being conducted by the Lemont and sheriff's police. An inquest into the cause of death will be held next week. Police have not given further details; no charges have been filed in the case.

All-Year Class OK

By LOUISE SCHALLER

ROMEDEVILLE -- District 96 school board members gave the administration the go light on the 45-15 school plan at last Monday's meeting. This is a continuous school year. Pupils receive the required 180 semester days.

Group A begins school June 30, 1970. Groups B, C, and D start at 15 day intervals. Three of the four groups will be occupying the school at all times with the exception of a week at Christmas, Easter, and a week in July.

Saturdays and Sundays will still be non-school days. Children from the same family will be placed on the same schedule regardless of grade level unless parents ask for other arrangements.

Robert Shoop, architect's representative, reported on school construction and repairs in the district. Ridge View school will be ready Sept. 1 barring unforeseen complications. Air conditioning at Valley View is in the final stages.

West View Junior High foundation repairs are completed, a roof drain is being installed, and a gymnasium work on acoustics is in process. One bid was received to construct the bus facility building.

Romeoville officials will be contacted by letter on the construction of sidewalks in the vicinity of Ridge View. Village ordinances do not require sidewalks where the sides of homes face the street.

The Village of Bolingbrook will be notified that crossing guards will be necessary on Briarcliff Rd., north of North View School.

Village is responsible for furnishing these guards.

Nine teachers were approved for hiring. Those assigned to West View Junior High are Richard Lewandowski, typing and task force; Mrs. Sandra Leimbacher, physical education; John Wagner and Kathleen Wawczak math.

Mrs. Evelyn Felbinger was assigned to second grade at Valley View; Mrs. Alta Cobe, music at North View; Mrs. Gloria Miller, first grade at Ridge View; Mrs. Betty O'Keefe, third grade at Brook View; and Theodore Skilondz, physical education at Park View.

Resignations were received from John Temple, science teacher at West View Junior High and president of the teachers association, and from Gordon Whiteside, head custodian at Valley View School.

FEATURED AT Keepataw Days Labor Day Monday celebration in Lemont will be Jimmy Gross, 'best' of the banjo kings. He will present a program of 'a ricky-ticky-tick and a doo-wacky-doo.' Part of his program features his fast banjo playing, ending when he destroys his banjo in a puff of smoke. A native of Indiana, Jimmy came as a youngster to Chicago to work for several years as featured instrumentalist and vocalist on the WLS National Barn Dance. After that he became involved in recording in Chicago, and then band-leading. All area residents are invited by the Original Lemont Jaycees to view this entertainment at the annual Keepataw celebration.

Speculation On Tax Amount

By GLENN LOGAN

MOKENA -- The Mokena village board at its recent meeting adopted its appropriation ordinance.

The amount appropriated for general purposes is $118,700 of which $80,100 would be raised by taxes and $38,600 from other sources. Hall assumes the village would sometime get that kind of money.

There is another item, however, that is certain of being raised and paid -- $14,684.50 for principal and interest on bonds.

There is also an item in the ordinance of $10,000 for public benefits, which has caused some speculation as to whether the present administration had some program in mind that would be financed through special assessment bonds. In such cases a municipality subscribes to some of the cost through what is called "public benefits." Public benefits are raised by taxes.

The ordinance also carries $149,470 for operation of the water and sewer department. This money is raised through the rates paid for water and sewer treatment. There is also $50,000 to cover any expenditures the village may have out of its share of the motor fuel tax fund. If money is not appropriated it can't be spent, it was explained.

Trustee Ebert announced a change in the billing for water and sewer service. Bills will cover a two-month period as they have but half of the customers will receive them one month, and the remaining half will get their bills the following month. The village will be divided into a north half and a south half.

The north side will start it. In September people living from First St. north will get a bill for one month's service but after that they will be on a two month basis. This system will eliminate the necessity of reading all the meters at once, Ebert explained.

The village board also adopted ordinances to take advantage of the new state law which gives municipalities a full cent of the sales tax. Mokena's share of the sales tax for May was $3,389.77, after deductions.

Will County Fair Opens At Peotone On Aug. 21

WILL COUNTY - Cash premiums, trophies and the coveted royal purple sweepstakes ribbons are expected to attract hundreds of exhibitors to the Will County fair at Peotone again this year. The fair, now in its 66th year, will open Aug. 21, a week from tomorrow.

Entries can still be made at the secretary's office on the fairgrounds from Aug. 13 thru Aug. 16. Secretary William H. Meyer announced that his office will be open those days from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. The Saturday deadline, he said, applies to all classes except the Baby Show and the Tractor Pull. Deadlines for those two events is one hour before show time.

The Tractor Pull will be staged in front of the grandstand Thursday, Aug. 21, with three events in the afternoon beginning at 12:30 and three in the evening, starting at 7 o'clock. The Baby Show is slated for 2:30 Sunday afternoon, Aug. 24.

trophy presentation will be held that night, beginning at 7 o'clock.

On Friday, Aug. 22 there will be pony hitch classes and junior performance classes and that evening there is to be something new--so they say--for county fairs. It is a Demolition Derby.

The Demolition Derby is described as a si-heat event with six automobiles starting in each. Each heat winner is eligible to compete in the final feature event. The cars crash into each other until only one remains in running condition, it was explained. Nothing is said about the driver but apparently it is assumed he will survive, at least long enough to sight the car for one last crash.

Set New Fees For Building Permits

FRANKFORT -- A new schedule of building permit fees has been approved by the Frankfort village board. The fees, recommended by Trustee Howard Woodman, chairman of the committee in charge, will be placed before the board in ordinance form at its meeting next Monday night. Village Attorney August Santoro is drafting the measure.

The fees will be based on the valuation of the property involved and there is a scale for establishing this, based on the square footage. When a home is to be built the plans must be filed with the village clerk. The plans, naturally, set forth the dimensions of the house.

For frame dwellings the valuation will be $18 per square foot; for a brick veneer home, $20 per square foot, and for solid brick, $22 per square foot. There are some "pluses" too. A fire place will add $2,500 to the Midway attractions will be on hand for all sessions at the fair.

Total premiums offered this year are $37,586, according to Milbert Johnson, president of the county fair board.

Fair officials have turned the calendar back a few years with one of the events scheduled. On Thursday, Aug. 21, between the afternoon and evening tractor pulls will be a special event for boys and girls--catching or penning a greased pig.

There will be three classes for girls, 10 to 12, 12 to 15 and 15 to 19 and three classes for boys, the only difference is that the first class for boys is from 8 to 12 years old. There will be a $10 prize for the winner in each class.

valuation: a basement, $1,500; a single car garage, $1,000 and a two-car garage, $2,500.

The permit fee for new homes will be $3 per $1,000. For remodeling and repairs, 0 to $500, $3; $500 to $1,000, $5, and $3.50 per $1,000 for over the thousand dollar mark.

There will be six inspections and the fee will be $3 for each.

At the time application for a building permit is made the applicant must post a deposit, that will be applied against the total fee. The deposit for a house permit will be $50; for a garage, $5, and for remodeling and repairs, $5 unless a payment of $3 or $5 would be the total.

Fees for commercial and industrial buildings will vary according to the type and use, as will the rules on setbacks, it was said but they will be equitable with those placed on homes.

First Grade Rooms In Dist. 159 Altered

MOKENA -- It is estimated that the new Willowcrest Primary School at Mokena will not be completed until about Oct. 1. Therefore it will be necessary to make some temporary arrangements in the two existing schools, according to Superintendent James Ennis.

First grade pupils that have been assigned to Room 108 in the new primary school should report to Room 4 at Carpenter Street School. First grade students that had been assigned to Room 106 in the new building should report to Room 103 at Willowcrest School.

All second grade students should report to Willowcrest School to the old second grade rooms 107, 110, and 111. Room rosters will be posted outside each door and teachers and school personnel will be available to assist students in finding their rooms. One second grade class will be in the library until the new building is finished.

Conditions will be crowded but all schedules will be nearly normal and no split shifts will be necessary.

"Early spring rain is the cause for the construction delay. During the summer a great deal of progress has been made. It is still possible that the building may be ready by the middle of September rather than Oct. 1," Ennis noted.

School fees may be paid in advance at either school office Carpenter Street or Willowcrest between 8:30 a.m. and 5 p.m.

School will begin on Tuesday, Sept. 2, at 9 o'clock. School buses will operate on last year's schedule for the first few days until new routes can be determined, and schedules sent to parents, Ennis said. On Sept. 2 school will be in session for only one hour for students in grades 1-8, dismissing at 10 o'clock.

Buses will not be available for kindergarten students the first day. Morning students should report at 9 o'clock and afternoon students at 11 a.m. On Wednesday, Sept. 3, the normal schedule will hold.

Homer Is To Register

LOCKPORT -- Homer School, District 33-C, Cedar Rd., will hold registration Aug. 25 through 29 from 8 a.m. through 4:30 p.m. daily.

Parents of all students, grades one through eight, should report to receive classroom assignments for their children and to pay fees. Book rental fees, including the cost of workbooks, will be $12, milk fees, $5.78, and optional student school time insurance, $2.25 or 24 hour, 12 month insurance at $13.75.

School will open Wednesday, Sept. 3, at 8:45 a.m. with all buses running normal routes. First day's classes will terminate after a short indoctrination and the issuance of textbooks.

All faculty members will convene a day early, Tuesday, Sept. 2, at 9:30 a.m. for a preschool workshop.

Create Machinery To Halt Blasting, Fumes

LEMONT -- Complaints from Lemont residents on blasting being done in the village and gas fumes coming into the village were main discussion points at the most recent board of trustees meeting.

Mayor John J. Kujawa started the discussion by recognizing the fact that the residents in the audience were there because of the two problems.

Mayor Kujawa stated, "I know what the problem is, but at this time there are no members of the pollution committee present, yet, but will be soon. I have taken it upon myself to appoint Jack Lawson, George Gerharz and Robert Endecavage to advise the pollution committee on guidelines for the problem. They will conduct a complete follow-through campaign."

It was reported by the board that the smells are coming from barges that are being unloaded and passing down the canal. The smells get in the air and linger in trees and plants, causing residents to smell them all the time.

According to Kujawa, the Sanitary District feels that it is monitoring the shocks from blasting and are doing all that they can. He then asked the village attorney, Dale Anderson, how successful an injunction filed by the village against the company would be.

Anderson reported, "The case would become a matter of evidence in the law suit. We will need expert witnesses to testify against the experts of the blasting companies in court. The village will need to arrange to have a panel of experts to enter court."

Dr. Barry J. Ladd, trustee, brought up the point of having the individual homeowners effected by the blasting testify in court. "Each, if they could prove it, could testify about the plaster cracking and the house shaking."

He also stated that the companies have to blast, and that they have not been co-operative in monitoring as they should, which should have an effect on the court.

"If each company is left to their own devices they do just what they want. I guess that we will just have to quit blasting until the case is heard by a court. Everyday would get to be expensive, and eventually the cost would get to be high and would have to start monitoring properly," Ladd said.

Anderson pointed out that sometimes the party filing the injunction has to post a bond, which would be lost if the case was lost. He stated he would check into similar cases on blasting.

Rev. Glenn Bergmark of the pollution committee spoke. He stated that the pollution committee is being re-constituted.

Don't Panic Over Asbestos Pollution

Copyright 1969 World Book Science Service

Air pollution in urban industrialized areas is serious enough without people panicking needlessly.

A case in point is a recent

Naderesque warning that automobile brake linings throw enough asbestos dust into the atmosphere to cause lung diseases, including the cancer-like growth called

WHAT'S NEW IN MEDICINE

BY BETTY JOHN

pleural mesothelioma. "Fears about the presence of asbestos seem exaggerated," says Dr. George W. Wright, chief of pulmonary research at St. Luke's Hospital in Cleveland.

Industrial workers manufacturing asbestos products and asbestos miners are indeed subject to all kinds of chest ailments, just as coal miners are subject to black lung. But chances of asbestos poisoning among the general population are slim.

Less than 5 per cent of the U.S. asbestos goes into brake linings. Other uses for asbestos have grown in the last few years, but most of it goes into products which tightly bind the fibers, preventing their escape into the atmosphere.

These include asbestos tile and cement. Fibers that might be released fall to the ground of their own weight and become bound to the soil.

Many structures similar to asbestos bodies have been found in the lungs, but no one has proved that they are indeed asbestos.

There are according to Dr. Wright, at least 20 widely disseminated substances that are capable of forming these growths in the lungs, of which the most common are far more widely used is talcum powder.

URANIUM THREAT

Increasing use of uranium in industry and atomic research poses a health hazard that was not anticipated, say researchers at the University of Cincinnati. The metal, which is absorbed through the skin or lungs, settles in the kidneys of exposed workers and poisons them.

GERM-CARRIER

Flies are among the most dangerous pests known to man. They carry germs inside their bodies or in their hair, and leave germs behind whenever they "bite" or touch any object. Malaria, sleeping sickness, and typhoid fever are among the diseases spread by flies.

The Junior Scientist

Your Voice May Detect Disease

Computers may soon be helping doctors "listen" for certain diseases.

Quite a few diseases of the nervous system cause very subtle changes in a person's voice and speech patterns.

These changes may be impossible to hear by ordinary means, but a microphone can pick up the voice patterns and sound frequencies with great accuracy and what it "hears" can be sent through a computer.

If the computer were programmed to recognize the voice changes that occur with particular diseases, it could give the doctor an instant alert to check further.

Researchers are working on finding the correct date for such a program. Their goal is to find a few standard lines of speech that can be counted on to signal problems.

One day you may talk to a computer as part of your routine check-up. Perhaps telephone lines will be used to transmit your voice to a computer that's far away.

Each time you visit the doctor, the computer could be called upon to compare your voice with previous records and tell the doctor whether there are any changes that might indicate trouble.

Of course, this is not the only way that computers will be helping doctors diagnose disease.

Each of the techniques being developed draws on the computer's ability to "remember" many details that it can rapidly compare with new information.

To solve the puzzle, make a list of the "plus" words. Then cross off all the letters from the "minus" words and rearrange the letters you have left in the boxes to discover the mystery word.

ANSWERS: Plus - doctor, cause, signal, voice, standard, compare. Minus - record, data, cane, vocal, computers. SOLUTION: diagnosis.

Demolish Unsafe Building

Lockport City Council is to be commended for following through its rules on doing something about the declared unsafe downtown buildings.

Under fire for some time now has been the building at 1033 S. State St., property now owned by a Willow Springs man. The building was demolished this past week and the debris hauled away immediately by the contractor.

This is certainly a step in the right direction for making the city of Lockport more attractive. The council has been successful over the past few years in having several such buildings demolished. This has been done by both the past and present council. They have all been working toward the same goal to make Lockport's downtown area more appealing.

Local merchants have been fixing up their buildings. Most of the downtown buildings are quite old but lend a colorful atmosphere to Lockport. They appear to be sound and well-maintained.

Another step in the right direction was repairing of deteriorated sidewalks on the east side of State St. between 9th and 10th Sts. Mrs. Rose Malek, proprietor of Peters Shoe Store, was instrumental in getting this project carried out. Merchants took care of this expenditure themselves and were not given assistance by the city. These merchants were concerned about their sidewalks and wanted residents to patronize their stores.

Sidewalks across the street, however, are beginning to crack and ruin. Perhaps the merchants there will do something about those sidewalks before they are in complete disrepair.

As a whole though, the downtown area of Lockport has greatly improved. Just take the time to look around you carefully.

Does Good Job

The summer olympics program conducted this year in the Lincoln-Way High School district served hundreds of youngsters -- girls as well as boys -- ranging in age from six to 18.

It was not only beneficial from a fitness and health standpoint. Competition stimulated their desire to improve skills and talents. One may lose today, but generally one can learn from defeat and, from that lesson and giving extra effort, one can win tomorrow.

The program was conducted by Joe Rodriguez, of Mokena, track coach at Lincoln-Way High. Coach Rodriguez is an enthusiastic chap and his enthusiasm is infectious. Kids work for him.

At school last winter there was quite a sizable group of boys and girls who ran for him all winter. The weather didn't matter. Whether it was dry and sunny, muddy and slushy, and with rain or snow or the temperatures falling, they ran. It paid off for them too.

Lincoln-Way's track team won the Southwest Suburban Conference title as well as many other meets. Individually several of the boys set district and regional records, as well as conference records.

It was a busy summer for all participants in the olympic program. The sessions were held at the Manhattan School grounds, the Lincoln-Way athletic field, and the Mokena and Frankfort parks. The older youngsters put in their time at Lincoln-Way -- in the evenings because some 90 per cent of them had fulltime jobs.

The program was financed in part by donations and in part by the Lincoln-Way High School district. The district paid the coach's salary. His traveling expenses, including the trips in which he carted youngsters to various meets where they competed, were paid for out of contributions.

Donors included the Lions Clubs of Mokena, Manhattan and New Lenox; the Veterans of Foreign Wars post at Mokena; the New Lenox State Bank, the New Lenox Lumber Co.; the Hedges Clinic at Frankfort, and Attorney John B. Anderson, New Lenox.

Coach Rodriguez, the school district and the contributors are deserving of the area's thanks for making this physical fitness program possible. The coach especially merits commendation for his efforts.

It is a good thing that he is in excellent physical condition himself -- he had to be with the schedule he had to maintain. But more important is the fact that Joe Rodriguez is a teacher dedicated to building better citizens through his teachings as well as physical fitness.

The communities involved have been fortunate in having such a program. It is to be hoped that it will not only become an annual fixture in this area but will spread to others.

Illinois Farmers Want Farm Policy Changed

WASHINGTON, D. C.-- An Illinois farm leader said there is real grassroots support in Illinois for a federal farm program change that would emphasize land retirement, market-oriented crop price supports, farm markets expansion, and assistance to low income farmers.

That point was made by William J. Kuhfuss, Illinois Agricultural Association president, in a statement prepared for presentation at a U. S. House of Representatives Agriculture Committee hearing. The president of the IAA, the nation's largest state-wide Farm Bureau, along with heads of nine other state Farm Bureaus, accompanied Charles B. Shuman, American Farm Bureau Federation president, at the hearing on farm programs. The Farm Bureau presidents endorsed the proposed Agricultural Adjustment Act of 1969 which has been introduced in the Congress by 21 representatives and 20 senators. Illinois sponsors Sens. Everett M. Dirksen and Charles Percy and Reps. Paul Findley and Robert Michel.

In his testimony, AFBF President Shuman asserted that the present Food and Agriculture Act of 1965, scheduled to expire at the end of next year, is "a demonstrated failure" and that new legislation should be enacted this year so that farmers can plan ahead.

The Farm Bureau legislative proposal would provide for a market-oriented land retirement program. Present acreage controls, base acreages, marketing quotas, processing taxes, and direct payments for wheat, feed grains, and cotton would be phased out over a five-year period. During this transitional period, the Cropland Adjustment program of retiring land from production on a long-term basis would be expanded gradually, with emphasis on retiring whole farms and providing a program of assistance to low income farmers.

March - What Else?

"Do we have to go out and march? How else are we ever going to clear up this problem?" This is what one resident of Lemont told the board of the trustees and mayor recently.

The quote came as a result of discussion on what to do about the blasting problem and the problem of gas fumes escaping into the village.

The members of the village board have been trying to find a suitable solution to these two problems ever since a petition was presented to them a month ago by residents in the area of the blasting. It seems that people are tired of having their house shake and plaster crack and fall down.

What can the village really do about it?

The idea of a temporary injunction being filed in court seemed to be a good idea. That was until all angles of that problem were discussed. The village could lose a lot of money if it lost the case. According to legal authorities, unless the village could get proof from experts it could not win the case. Experts hired by the blasting companies could easily out talk, and out maneuver the individual homeowners affected by the problem.

Citizens have this problem, and they scream everytime a blast goes off. Mayor Kuiawa and members of his board can not always be there when the blasts go off.

What to do remains the big question.

The mayor and members of the village board are doing everything that is within the law, and the finances of the village, to stop this problem. Maybe once and for all a solution can be found.

With cooperative help and a little patience from all of the residents concerned with this problem, a final and feasible solution will be discovered.

The Lesson

More than 700 years ago that basic charter of liberty, the Magna Carta, was forced upon a tyrannical King by his rebellious subjects.

The Magna Carta has been described as "the starting point in the constitutional history of the English race." It has also been termed "the nearest approach to an irrevocable 'fundamental statute' that England has ever had." This document of 700 years ago laid the foundation of government by law that in principle was ultimately incorporated in our own U.S. Constitution and Bill of Rights.

The deathless principle of government by law is as valid today as it was 700 or more years ago. Although the British Parliament, according to late reports, is considering legislation to repeal certain clauses of the Magna Carta, the ancient charter's most important legacy remains intact.

It provides that no free man should be seized or imprisoned, or stripped of his rights or possessions, or outlawed or exiled, or deprived of his standing in any other way, except by the lawful judgment of his equals or by the law of the land.

Many of us may have to learn again what the English Kings learned at Runnymede seven centuries ago. The enduring force of law is the basis of civilization and freedom.

Across The Editor's Desk

By ANN KARKUT

KENNETH WEBSTER, new administrative assistant for District 205 High Schools, proposed a sound plan at Thursday's high school board meeting. Administration and board members have been most concerned with an area vocational center.

Webster reported that the District 205 board has offered a portion of the West High school site for a new vocational center. This program would be for several participating schools. Since West High has 95 acres, it seems logical to place a building there.

Joliet Township District 204 has offered their technical arts building located adjacent to Joliet Central High building. Right now officials are weighing the pros and cons of each particular site.

Last year several residents felt that perhaps one of our own schools could be used for a vocational center to help alleviate the overcrowdedness. However, the same number of students had to be squeezed into the three buildings. Residents were thinking along the right line though and perhaps if our administrators work a little harder they can convince the officials to take the West High site. It certainly has its advantages even though the other building is already in existence.

County officials have been meeting regularly on an area-wide vocational center and our staff members and several board members have also been attending these sessions. They are interested in the welfare of the students.

DISTRICT 92 Schools, Ludwig-Reed-Walsh, will have something new added this year with a relocatable classroom on the Reed site. District 92 has been unsuccessful in getting a school bond referendum passed the last several years. Let's hope the residents of the district will see past their noses before we have all three sites loaded with relocatable classrooms which are fairly costly.

Next year all the grade schools must provide kindergarten. This has been made mandatory by the state. Where are the schools going to put all these kindergarten students when they hardly have room for grades one through eight.

Mothers this past year were concerned enough with kindergarten to attend a Homer School board meeting. They want the kindergarten program now instead of waiting for 1970. However, Homer board did not respond as they don't know where they are going to put these youngsters.

Now that Illinois residents have been hit with a state income tax without other taxes alleviated at this time, it doesn't seem likely anyone will be too receptive to bond issues. Although some of these funds will be directed back to the school districts, it will not be enough for them to do a great deal. Buildings cost money and the prices do not get any cheaper. Each year a building program is delayed, the same building costs considerably more.

Wouldn't it be nice if we could control our local tax money and supply our community with its needs rather than have the state and federal government tell us how much to pay and who will benefit from it? It is a nice dream though.

Dear Editor,

After reading your problem with the state government, I thought you might like to hear our problem, or rather my son Randy's.

Since he is out of the country for the past four months, it became my job to get it straightened out.

Randy has two cars, a Jaguar, and a 1959 Pontiac, which was our old car, and Randy took it over to drive to the plant, rather than drive his new car, and have it banged around in the parking lot at work.

On Jan. 13 he ordered license plates for both cars and enclosed a check to cover both sets. Several weeks later he received plates for his Jaguar, but not for the Pontiac, although on the back of the check which was canceled Jan. 23, they had printed the license number which was supposed to be issued for the Pontiac.

The service that had taken care of the order checked into it and found that those plates had been sent to someone downstate. I became alarmed, everything imaginable came to my mind, hit and run, involuntary manslaughter, property damage, could be traced to those license plates that Randy paid for and never received.

I wrote to Paul Powell's office and explained the problem to him and asked for a refund. I waited weeks and finally got a postcard acknowledging my request and stating that every consideration would be given when all documents regarding my refund has reached their files.

I waited a few more weeks before I wrote again, asking what kind of documents they were waiting for. All I wanted was a refund or credit slip that could be used on next year's plates.

Aug. 8 I got a letter from Powell's office telling me that the refund had been approved and is being processed for payment. That is fine, but suppose that was the only transportation we had, just what would we have done.

Mr. Powell wrote, quote, "I wish to assure you, however, that the refund will reach you without further inquiry on your part," unquote.

I don't think he would appreciate hearing from me anymore.

Editor:

While Joe Kovach was blowing his own horn (his words), in the Aug. 13 issue of his Weekly Belch, telling how much more honest and courageous he is compared to the editor of the Southwest Graphic, he sounded a bit of a sour note.

In one paragraph he claimed that two out of three families in the Bolingbrook-Hampton Park area buy his newspaper. In the next paragraph it had jumped to three out of four families.

With an increase of circulation of that magnitude in such a short time, it won't be long before he will rival the Chicago Tribune.

Personally, I doubt if it is one out of 10.

Editor:

We share the feelings expressed by Mesdames Marion and Mildred Simmons in the letter to the editor column Aug. 13.

We, too, have loved ones buried in Mt. Vernon Memorial Hills Cemetery, and are saddened by the threat of a "sanitary" landfill in the cemetery land.

We are appealing to George W. Dunne, president of the Cook County Board of Commissioners and members of the board at 523 County Building, Chicago, 60602, and Robert Marks, chairman of the Zoning Board of Appeals, Civic Center, Room 310, Chicago, 60602, to deny an open permit to the two concerned enterprises. These are Mt. Vernon Memorial Hills, Inc., and the Metropolitan Disposal Company, land owner and fill-contractor respectively.

We appeal to readers -- especially homeowners -- to express their opinions in letters to the above named officials, for real estate taxes would continue to rise as a result of continuous road repairs.

'The New Experience'

By JACKIE FREITAG

How does it feel to enter a strange place, meet strange people and not quite know what to do or how to act?

This describes the strange new feeling that will overcome a group of the young people of this and many other fair cities within the next few weeks. What is causing this problem? The entering of freshmen into high school!

Everybody, including this stalwart, had to go through this portal of their life. Many a night I laid in bed quivering at the thought of entering that big, empty building with all of those strange, new people, and big, complicated rules and courses. Really it is not as bad as you are led to believe.

Any freshman student that can survive the first week of school, (for some it might be the first month) will survive anything. Here you are, a loner, a long-lost soul that is suddenly torn from his or her friends and placed with new people, and experiences.

During the first couple of weeks we have the "let's get acquainted" period -- commonly known as freshmen initiation week. During this period anything can happen, and usually does. I remember one poor student that was told that his room was on the far corner of the third floor. This was great, we had a two story building. This poor kid looked for almost an hour for the third floor.

Or better yet was the kid who was asking directions to get to the staircase to go upstairs. He was told to stand in front of this unmarked door, and in about a couple of minutes the elevator would come for him. Well, the door just happened to be the entrance to the janitor's room, not an elevator.

From A Younger Pen

The poor kid stood there for an hour before someone told him to get moving.

Another of the poor freshmen was caught selling toilet paper in the hall for a penny apiece. Or better yet one was made to sit on top of all of his books in the middle of the hall reading William Shakespeare out loud. Never a dull moment!

Beware all you upcoming freshmen!! Really it isn't as bad as it sounds. A lot of times the things done are in fun, and everyone has a good laugh. Even sometimes they don't do anything to the freshmen -- but then again who knows?

Kill Change To Parallel

By ANN KARKUT

LOCKPORT -- Lockport City Council will not change the 10th Street parking from angle to parallel. A motion to make the change was defeated at Monday night's session.

Dick Cronholm, councilman, read the accident report submitted by Bob White, who was absent. White is chairman of the safety committee.

Police Chief Bob Gait reported fourteen accidents on 10th St. and nine accidents on 11th St. in 1968. Accidents in 1969 on 10th St. totaled nine, and three on 11th St.

Gordon McCluskey, director of public works, said his recommendation for parallel parking on 10th St. was based on the accident report.

He said he was concerned with 10th St. only. Semi-trucks have been unloading in the alley at Ace Hardware, but, McCluskey said, this is not the solution to the problem because the trucks have difficulty backing out.

McCluskey suggested the city block off two meters on 10th St. when trucks are due.

Cronholm and Len Strahanoski were the only two in favor of the change to parallel parking. Voting no were Frank Meyers, John Kinsella, Swen Nelson, Jim Miller and George Wolfe.

McCluskey asked the council to make sure that the minutes showed the accident rate twice as high on 10th as on 11th St. The council said there was also more traffic on 10th St. in replying to McCluskey's request. The council did not make the change.

Jim Doyle complained about "unbearable" paint odors at John's Used Car Lot, adjacent his home at 18th and State. He said the owner has constructed two garages and is painting cars there.

The problem will be turned over to the county health officer. The legality of painting under the present zoning is to be checked out by Korst. There are several types of zoning involved.

The council will meet Tuesday, Aug. 26 at 7:30 p.m. in city hall with Tech-Search Inc., comprehensive planners. Discussion will be on when to set public hearings for adoption of a master plan for Lockport.

LIKE A GOOD BOOK, a great school look is hard to find... usually...but not this season. The best-seller choice for back-to-school or at-home is a look the little girls call "Jumpering for joy." A happy combination of navy and white makes up this Cinderella plaid stunner in cotton corduroy, an A-shape suspended with hardware closings.

REGIMENTAL STRIPES, for when the regiment goes back to school. The new skinny shape takes to horizontal stripes in these Cinderella variations on the cotton polo shirt dress. Big sister sashes hers with a tie belt. Little sister has a mini pocket-to tuck in a hanky or a handful of penny candy. Both part of the new casual school days look.

CHECK THESE for school: Top Priority on any back-to-school list, crisp Cinderella fashions in the latest plaids and checks. The navy plaid A-line jumper with the novelty cut bias yoke and bias flap proves a boon to mother; it's a Stop the Press easy-care fashion in half Fortrel, half cotton. What's their fall rating? Check these fashions A-plus.

School Year Fashions For Girls A 'Mixed Bag'

This year, little girls will find the fall clothes truly a mixed bag. With a wealth of different styles, colors and patterns, the new fall clothes cater to each child's personality.

Pants make it big with the younger set -- either in pant-dresses or flared and teamed with mini dresses and tunics. Pleats and dirndls appear on Cinderella's prettiest resses, and that old favorite, the shirt-dress, looks entirely new scarved-up and yoked cowboy style or long, skinny and clingy like a polo shirt that grew.

The foreign touch will be seen in the French school girl jumper and the Tyrolean suspender skirt and ric rac pants dress. Cinderella's Indian mosaic and batik prints as well as Scandinavian and Gypsy patterns will carry out this exotic theme. Tapestry, paisley and geometric prints, tartan, stained-glass and three-dimensional plaids will also be important.

Fabrics for the class of '70 will range from knits for every look (sporty to dressy) through matte jerseys, corduroy, argyle, tweed, velvets and crepes.

Color gets an A for achievement with clean, clear brights like Wagon Red and Crayon Yellow. Tribal colors will whoop it up in Navajo Navy and Leather Brown, among others. And romantic shades like Renaissance Green will add a pretty note.

It's an interesting and varied wardrobe for Fall - and one designed to let any little girl go straight to the head of her class - in style.

Melon Shortcake

SOUTHWEST--Are you a perfectionist about wanting perfectly round melon balls? Try laying the melon baller or measuring teaspoon flat on the surface of the melon. Apply enough pressure to cut, then give a twist to make the ball.

Usually melon balls are made by cutting into the melon flesh at an angle so it leaves one side flat. How you cut the whole melon will also make a difference as to the number of perfect melon balls you can cut out of the flesh. By cutting the melon lengthwise you have more surface to cut from.

WESTERN MELON SHORTCAKE

Mash 4 cups of melon balls or cubes with a potato masher and mix with 1/2 to 1 teaspoon almond flavoring; chill.

Prepare biscuits according to your favorite recipe, or use a package mix if you prefer. Split each biscuit in half and spread cut sides with butter or margarine. Spoon melon sauce over the bottom halves of the biscuits. Cover with biscuit tops and spoon more melon sauce over entire biscuit. Serve with whipped cream.

Chef's 'Day-Off' Special

SOUTHWEST -- What do celebrated professional chefs prepare for themselves and their families on their days off?

Well, we asked and, as usual with great chefs, it always turns out to be remarkably simple and better than the complicated dishes they spend their working hours slaving over in the great restaurants they serve.

Here's a miracle recipe from the head chef of one of the great French restaurants in New York (anonymous, of course, or else we wouldn't have been able to steal his secret).

ROCK CORNISH HEN SAMEDI

6 Rock Cornish Game Hens
1/2 cup butter

1 1/2 teaspoons garlic salt
1 whole onion, finely chopped
1 1/2 teaspoons parsley (crumbled)
1 1/2 teaspoons salt
1 teaspoon Rosemary (crumbled)
1/4 teaspoon white pepper

This is for oven or outdoor barbecue. If you barbecue, be certain the coals have burned down. Preheat over 400 degrees (F). Arrange Rock Cornish Hens in Shallow pan that has been oiled lightly. Melt butter in saucepan, add all the ingredients, except onions. Mix well. Brush mixture on each hen, sprinkle onion on top. (If barbecuing, sprinkle onions on skin side when browned). Bake 1 hour, uncovered, basting often.

Give Fashion Advice To Women

SOUTHWEST -- In the midst of the mini-skirt revolution, a designer has offered the mature mother who's planning to go back to work some sage fashion advice. The women over 40, she suggests, should look sensibly "with it" instead of slavishly following the "cute young looks" of her daughter's generation.

This advice came from Eleanor Brown, noted fashion designer and consultant to a number of firms in Canada and the United States. Mrs. Brown is a chic honey-blonde, and herself the mother of a 16-year-old daughter and an 18-year-old son.

She pointed out that a mature woman's dress and looks are crucial when she applies for a job. This is true, she said, not only in the "clothes-conscious" garment industry, but in every job situation. The woman who looks smart in an interview, she noted, "is a mile ahead" because the employer assumes she's a more experienced worker than she actually may be.

Mrs. Brown declared that physical health is as important as being chic. "Everything from posture to stamina is affected by the sense of well-being," she said. She also suggested that having a medical check-up is essential for women who plan to return to work. The family doctor, she said, can often advise a woman over 40 how to retain some of the vigor of youth, even though "she's not the mini-skirted type any longer."

Mrs. Brown emphasized that, although it is the nature of the young to experiment with fashion, being "with it" doesn't mean the mature woman should follow suit. "Kids will try any new style, no matter how far out, and get away with it," but the mature woman, she noted, mustn't fall into the trap of pretending to be a teen-ager again. Apart from being inappropriately dressed, she said, working women can't afford to splurge their salaries on clothing "the way youngsters do."

The woman who has a job, a home and a family, Mrs. Brown said, doesn't have time to do much shopping. She recommended that the mature working woman seek clothes that look well and don't require too much maintenance.

In this respect, she noted, fabric is as important as style, and attention should be given to finding "a good fabric" as well as a handsome design.

Mrs. Brown suggested that the mature woman select clothing that is smart, simple and personally becoming to her. The most ideal solution, she said, is a cross between "something fashionable and something very classic." That's the best formula, she concluded, for acting your age and still being "with it."

LEMONT -- The DuPage County Homemaker's Extension Association, an affiliate of the University of Illinois, will sponsor "Was Is", an antique show on Sept. 23, 24, and 25, at the DuPage County fairgrounds, Manchester Rd., Wheaton.

A FORUM ABOUT MATURE WOMEN

Widow's Ring

Dear Miss Brookfield:

I am a mother and a widow. I have been told that it is improper to continue wearing my wedding ring on the left hand and that it is customary for widows to transfer it to the right hand. My ring does not fit properly on the other hand. I loved my husband and wish to continue to wear the ring, but I also know that one cannot live with memories. Can you advise me?

M.J., Pleasant Lake, Ind.

Dear M.J.:

Many seem to believe that widowhood calls for either the removal or transfer of a woman's wedding ring, but this is not so. The proper course for a widow is to continue to wear her wedding ring on her left hand.

We might also add that one cannot live on memories, but living with them is part of life's experience.

Temporary Work

Dear Miss Brookfield:

I was prompted to write because of the many letters you receive from women in their forties who want to return to work. I am in that age bracket and when I wanted to return to the business world, I applied to an agency dealing with temporary help. I got back into circulation again and it did wonders for my self-confidence. I hope this will help your readers. I enjoy your column. It is the only one I've seen for women over forty. I thought it was just the teenagers who "made the papers" these days.

E.S., Sturgis, Mich.

Dear E.S.:

Thanks for passing along the job-finding tip. Considering that one third of the females in the United States are in their middle years, isn't it about time they, too, "made the papers?"

Painful Breasts

Dear Miss Brookfield:

I am in my middle forties and the mother of three children. My last child was born when I was 40. Since her birth I have felt better than ever before, and my menstrual cycle has now become regular for the first time. But about two weeks before my period, my breasts become painful, and just before my period, the pain eases. I have regular medical checkups, so I am not worried on that account. But I would like to know if other women have this problem.

M.T., Portland, Ore.

Dear M.T.:

Yes, they do. Among the majority of women, the timing of the breast enlargement and pain is connected with the levels of hormones circulating in the body at that time. During each menstrual cycle, the breasts are stimulated by hormones from the ovaries which cause the breasts to swell. Many women fail to notice any change but others complain of pain, tenderness and even enlargement. The pain usually begins 10 days or so before the onset of menstruation and usually ceases abruptly with the onset of the period. It is always best, however, if you have any doubts, to check with your physician.

Have you a problem as a mature woman, or with one? For advice and help write to Margaret Brookfield, Information Center on the Mature Woman, 3 West 57th Street, New York, N.Y. 10019.

Expand Alcohol Unit

SOUTHWEST -- South Suburban Council on Alcoholism, located at 157 E. 155th St., Harvey, recently announced that it now serves Southern Cook County, Grundy County and Will County.

According to Ben Thomas, executive director of the council, "Everyone should know that alcoholics are people who have alcoholism... they have become alcoholics through their inability to control their drinking through no fault of their own."

"They alone suffer a painful and progressive disease which causes undue family and social problems, and, if unchecked, can result in insanity or premature death.

"Alcoholics are people from all walks of life, high class, middle class, and low class. About 90 per cent of the alcoholics are not taking any constructive action or receiving any aid that would result in recovery.

"Most frequently the alcoholics themselves are ignorant of the true nature of their illness and their inability to help themselves... deteriorating physically, emotionally, as well as mentally, with their lives falling apart around them," according to Thomas.

For further help in dealing with this problem Thomas is available at Mayor Berlinsky's office in Joliet each Wednesday morning from 9:30 to 11:30 p.m. Anyone interested may also contact the council in Harvey, or by phoning 312-333-4357 or 312-333-H.E.L.P.

KEEPATAW DAYS

Aug. 23 Bike Safety Day For Mokena Area

MOKENA -- A bike safety school is to be conducted this Saturday, Aug. 23, by the Mokena police department. Mokena Community Park will be used.

A special course will be laid out, with stake and ropes to serve as streets, drive-ways and railroad tracks. Cars will be parked at "intersections" and Highway Commissioner Walter Yunker will provide the various road signs cyclists and motorists encounter.

Police Chief Wayne Ryder, who is in charge of the program, reminded bike riders that they are governed by the same traffic laws that pertain to automobiles.

The chief urges all parents whose off-spring ride bicycles to have them attend the safety school.

Boy Scouts will assist the police and village officials conducting the school in the instruction of the young cyclists.

Each youngster will undergo a written test as well as a riding test. If they don't get it the first time the instructions will be repeated until they know what they should do.

"Our purpose," said Chief Ryder, "is to teach children, not to fail them. If they make mistakes they will be allowed to try again until they finish the course correctly."

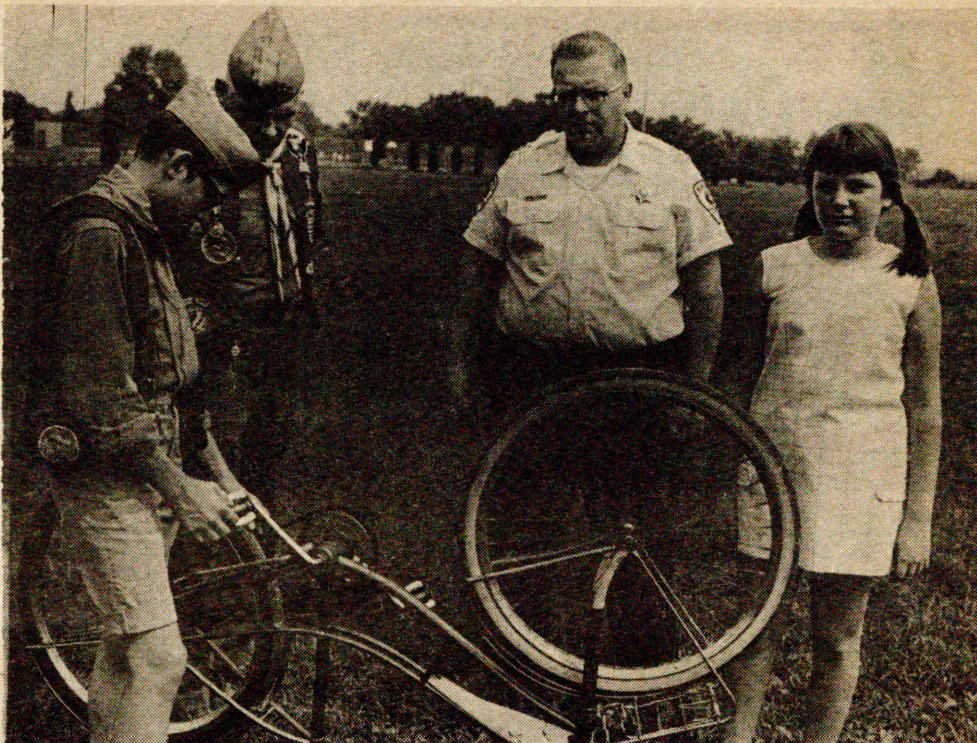

"It is my hope that Bicycle Safety Day will help prevent errors which could result in injury to a child."

When they complete the tests successfully each youngster will be given a decal to place on his bike. The decals are issued by the "Bicycle Institute Safety League" with the motto, "I pledge to ride safely." Each youngster also will be given an "Illinois State Police Good Citizens Drivers License" inscribed with his name and address, parents names and telephone number. On the back of the card will be the name and serial number of his bicycle; registration number, with a notion by Chief Ryder that the holder has passed the safety test.

The bicycle safety school Saturday is open to all young cyclists in the area. It is not restricted to Mokena children, altho the Mokena village board is subsidizing the costs and paperwork.

A pamphlet on safe bicycle riding will be given to each youngster. There are supplied by the state police.

In the event of rain the tests will be conducted Saturday, Sept. 6, Ryder said.

Speculation Over Taxes

The new rate will become effective Oct. 1.

Trustee Haislett told the board that after this year the village vehicle tax will be $8. It has been $5 but if paid before Jan. 1 the fee was reduced to $3.

It has been brought out that the previous administration adopted a Code Book containing the village's ordinances and one of them was the measure boosting the vehicle tax fee to $8. As far as can be learned this change was a surprise package never published or publicized. Whether this lack of publication would invalidate the ordinance has not been said.

Village Attorney George Sangmeister was instructed to draft an ordinance which would empower the village board to buy the property along the south side of Front St. between Wolf Rd. and Mokena St.

The Rock Island Lines, which owns all of it except a small portion at the Wolf

Rd. end, which is owned by Sheldon Hauck, of New Lenox, has dropped its price from $19,000 to $10,000. Hauck is asking $11,500 for his piece.

Before the ordinance is submitted to the village trustees for passage, however, it will be studied by legal counsel for the Mokena State Bank.

The village is to borrow the money to buy the land from the bank. It is understood that it is to be paid off over a term of years, a recent act by the legislature permitting municipalities to incur obligations that they can pay off in installments. The land along Front St. is to be converted into a mall with walks, trees and planters in addition to parking places. At the time the idea was conceived Mayor Will Tuttle was president of the Chamber of Commerce, where the idea was hatched.

The Chamber wanted to buy the land and raised $5,000 toward the goal. The railroad wouldn't enter into a deal with the chamber but said it would sell to the village. The Chamber then proposed that the village buy the land and that the Chamber in turn, would pay the village.

Mokena had $4,514 on hand at Springfield as its share of the motor fuel tax as of July 1. The state has taken this over to apply on a deficit. The state has borrowed some $60 million from motor fuel funds for schools and other purposes and is applying all of the money deposited for municipalities, townships, and counties to the debt.

From now on the MFT money divided with these bodies will be paid to them each month. The highway department will still say how to spend the money, but the recipients will have charge of the money.

Arthur Hostert, who resides on Mokena St., complained to the board about the holes in that thoroughfare, and that water was backing up into basements. Trustee Warning told him orders have been given to repair the street and that the village is working on the surface water problem.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Machalek, 191st and Wolf Rd., were furnished information as how to become annexed to the village.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Alexander would like to have Union St. extended from Revere Rd. north. They have some property for which they seek frontage on Union. The village attorney and engineer were to study this request.

Mayor Tuttle is asking the state to assume complete repair of Wolf Rd. after U.S. 45 is opened again to traffic. This traffic, much of it truck, is now passing thru Mokena, mostly on Wolf Rd. Because of the increase in traffic school authorities are asking for extra crossing guards. The village is looking for crossing guards, extra police, too.

LEMONT -- The Argonne Astronomy Club will hold a public star party in the parking lot of the Lemont Township High School athletic field from 8 to 11 p.m., Aug. 22.

Club members will set up several astronomical telescopes for the viewing pleasure of all who wish to attend. Featured celestial objects of the evening will be the 1st Quarter moon, Mars, the Ring Nebula in Iyra, the Hercules Cluster, and other deep-sky objects.

Charles Jungles, supervisor, said he did not see how the township could afford this expense at the present time. Spencer then suggested the residents would pay the bill. Jungles was not in favor of this suggestion.

Stanley Chapas, at the recent Homer township meeting, asked Jungles why the property on 143rd St. and Archer Ave. was rezoned for a lounge or restaurant when the residents were against it. Jungles said that he did not think the people objected to the rezoning.

Chapas then asked if he was in favor of Lockport annexing sections of Homer Township. Jungles said he voted in favor of the annexation at the board of supervisors' meeting as the residents of that particular area were not opposed to annexation.

Numerous complaints were directed to the road commissioner, John Donahue, who said he would repair roads as soon as possible.

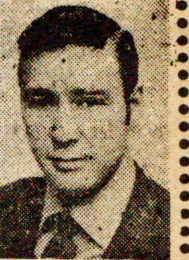

Totnwhip bills were approved by town board members, Bernard Morris and Merritt Cagwin, with Bernard Saunders voting no.

A heated discussion ensued on the minutes of the previous meeting. Saunders said the minutes were not complete and that a lot of important business discussed was not entered into the minutes.

Cathy Eaton, town clerk, said she puts into the minutes what she thinks is important. Minutes were finally approved.

Makes Evaluation Of Summer Olympics Program

SOUTHWEST -- An evaluation of the summer Olympics program in the Lincoln-Way High School district has been compiled by Joe P. Rodriguez, L-W track coach, who directed it. Daily sessions were held at Manhattan and in the Frankfort and Mokena parks, as well as evening sessions at the high school.

"I have mixed emotions in measuring the success of our summer program," Rodriguez has written. "Here is a brief resume of what is considered the strengths and weaknesses of the olympic program.

"Strengths:

"1. - Proper instruction. The importance of good physical fitness was stressed for all ages.

"2. - Provided an opportunity for competition. Semi-weekly meets were held for grade school age children at the Lincoln - Way High School with ribbons awarded. Boys and girls also competed in the weekly meets at Chicago Heights.

"We participated in the following meets as a team or as individuals: Jaycee meets -- Joliet, Elmhurst, Granite City and Minneapolis, Minn.; AAU meets -- Chicago and Terre Haute, Ind.; Mokena Lions 10-Mile-Run; Monticella 26-mile marathon; Joliet West track meets and the 100-mile relay at St. Charles, Ill.

"3. - Gave the girls an outlet for competitions.

"4. - The high school athletes were provided an opportunity to participate and practice at night, altho 90 per cent of the boys had full time jobs. We averaged from 20 and 25 boys in attendance at these evening sessions.

"Things learned from the program:

"1. - Poor communications. Should set up a system whereby one parent in each town would be responsible for relaying information to participants. This applies especially on days when there was rain or the weather was threatening. The director is bombarded with phone calls from the different towns.

"2. - Program was too long. Six weeks is enough; also the program should begin immediately after school is out in order to avoid conflicts with family vacation plans.

"3. - Too many practices. Practice should be held only in the mornings for grade school age children in each town.

"4. - Not enough meets for grade school age children. There should be a meet once a week and it should be held in the evening -- 6:30 to 8:30 o'clock.

"5. - Lack of equipment hindered the program the most. We were not able to have high jumping and pole vaulting at any place except Lincoln-Way's athletic field.

"Highlights of program:

"1. - Winning first place at the olympic program in Joliet for youngsters 10 to 18 years of age. All four towns well represented. We broke at least 10 records.

Our girls finished second.

"2. - Terry Ryan won the state championship in the 440-yd. run in the AAU meet; Lee Erickson was second in the 880, and David Merrick, third, in the mile run.

"3. - Rick Loucks placed in the 880 at the National Jaycee Meet in Minneapolis, in which 35 states were represented.

"4. - Terry Ryan (in the 220 and 440) and Lee Erickson (in the 880) won the Joliet and Elmhurst Jaycee meets and finished in the top five in the finals at Granite City. Lee was second in the 880 and Terry fourth in the 220, and his team second in the relay.

"5. - Dave Merrick won the 10-mile-run at Mokena on the Fourth of July.

"6. - Lee Erickson finished second in the 880 in the Regional AAU at Terre Haute, Ind., in which six states were represented.

"7. - We finished seventh in the 100-mile relay at St. Charles in nine hours and 53 minutes. (Each boy ran 10 miles -- five miles at a time. Team members were Dave Merrick, Al Carlson, Bill Been, Bill Simpson, Rick Loucks, Steve Mangun, Larry Erickson, Tom Booble, from the Lincoln-Way area, and Rick Adamski and Bon Swedko, of Oak Lawn.)

"8. - Both boys and girls did quite well in the weekly meets held at Chicago Heights and the semi-weekly meets at Joliet West."

Dellwood Indians Take Expos In Pee Wee Play

LOCKPORT -- Lockport Township Park District held its first Pee Wee League World Series this past week at Dellwood Park. Representing the American League were the Dellwood Indians who opposed the National League champion Dellwood Expos in a best two out of three series.

Games, with seven and eight year olds participating, are played without a pitcher as all batting is done off a tee to help the youngsters learn the fundamentals of the game.

First game found the American League Champion Indians coming from behind in the bottom of the fifth inning and scoring 13 runs to tag a 17-9 loss on the Expos and jump out to a quick lead in the series.

Hitting stars of the game were Mark and Jeff Kolmodin for the Expos, Mark Wood, Jim Margentina and Leroy Irvin each smacked homeruns for the winning Indians.

In the second game the Expos had a short-lived lead but could not hold down the booming bats of the Indians who combined two, eight run innings and a six run inning with a single tally in the fifth to score a total of 23 runs and a walk home with a 23-3 triumph.

Tom Ryan, Mark Wood, Leroy Irvin and Ed Trubich all collected four hits each for the winners. Expos were held to only four safeties.

In the final game and by far the most exciting of the series, the Indians had to come from behind once more to manage a 12-11 victory over the determined Expos. Losing 9-2 in the fourth, the Indians went to work and tied the game in the fifth.

After holding the Expos scoreless in the top of the sixth, the Indians pushed a run across in their half of the final frame as Chris Cronholm drove Jim Margentina scampering home with the winning run. Jeff Kolmodin had four hits including three for extra bases.

Bill Ulmer had a pair of triples and doubles for four hits and Bobby Milam had three base-knocks for the Expos. Tom Gombosi, Mark Wood and Margentina had three hits for the winners. Leroy Irvin led the hit parade with two triples, a double and a single.

Following the final game, the most valuable players were Jeff Kolmodin for the Expos and Mark Wood for the Indians. Runners up were Jack Devine for the Expos and Chris Cronholm for the champions.

Winners were presented trophies by Milo Denick, park board president, in ceremonies at Dellwood Park.

Season Over After All-Stars

By MARIE HOVI

In spite of the miserable weather on Saturday, August 9, the next day proved to be an ideal one for the gala All-Star Day for the Baseball League. All three games were played on schedule.

The crowd proved to be both large and lasting. The first game saw the all-stars of the two Farm Teams matched against the second All-Star B Teams. It was a wild and wooly game with the lead playing see-saw.

It was a run fest right to the end with four runs scoring on an assortment errors and hits. When the dust cleared, the Farm Team All-Stars were on the long end of a fifteen to twelve score.

In contrast to the first game pitted the A Team against the first B Team All-Stars. It was a tight pitchers' game with the win being decided by one run, the only one scored. The A Team's Jim Froelich scored the only run of the game to cinch a one to zero win for the A Team.

It seemed as though the day was a type of "sandwich" when the third game set the Pony Team against an assortment of Dads, both those of the Pony Team and many other volunteers to replace those pooped out from their efforts.

A tight pitcher's game, it wasn't. An example of sterling baseball, it wasn't, but a lot of fun for both sides, it sure was.

The Dads gave their all out effort to the cause, but it was all in vain. Even the umpire, a Dad by the way, also seemed to lean somewhat toward the underdog Dads. I wouldn't exactly say his calls were sometimes less than accurate, but the boys would have had to be nine foot tall for some of those called strikes.

The outcome of the game as nearly as could be tallied was sixteen to four in favor of the boys over the Dads. And how stiff are your muscles today Dad?

Lockport FFA Students Do Well In Mazon Fair

LOCKPORT -- Central-East High School agricultural occupations students participated in the Mazon fair. Eighteen area schools making up section eight of the Illinois Association of FFA took part in the fair.

Lockport did very well. Two boys, Jerry Paddock and Jay Carlson, won championships.

Paddock, also of Homer Township, won reserve grand champion Angus senior heifer over all breeds.

Pamela Matia won an "A" rating and fourth place with her registered five-year old quarterhorse, "Giggers." A junior at Central High, she will enter her third year of studies in the agricultural occupations class. She plans to continue her horse project at the family home in Homer Township where she has another horse in her school program.

Other Lockport exhibitors were Ed Henry, Jennie Tice and Florence Smith.

They originate from Arbury Hills and according to the neighbors the group is good and "loud." The kids had a ball dancing, eating and doing whatever it is kids that age do. Vickie's co-hostess for the big event was Linda Thompson.
